

Vacancy for Engineering Manager

Worthing, West Sussex.

A rare position has become available for an Engineering Manager to join our friendly team based in Worthing. If you have experience in successfully leading a commercial or PCV engineering team, then this is a perfect opportunity to grow your career with a locally owned independent bus and coach company operating throughout Sussex, Surrey and Brighton.

We are looking for a self-motivated individual that can lead our friendly team of professionals at our Worthing workshops and an exciting expansion plan as we continue to grow our business.

Reporting directly to the General Manager, you will be responsible for the overall management of the engineering department, having full budgetary responsibility, as well as managing our buildings, heavy equipment and contractors.

Role requirements:

- Bus or coach (or similar commercial) transport engineering background is essential with a demonstrable work history.
- Must have appropriate engineering qualifications (NVQ Level 3, City & Guilds or similar)
- Awareness of DVSA requirements, guidance and latest standards.
- Should be capable of demonstrating 'right first time' diagnosis and repair.
- Commercial awareness is essential, with a focus on costs and efficiencies.
- Able to schedule work to maximise efficiency of the workshop.
- A high standard of work, quality repair and good attention to detail.
- Able to support, manage and motivate the team whilst under pressure.

Advantageous (not required):

- Knowledge of Freeway Fleet Systems engineering software.
- Experience and knowledge of dealing with parts suppliers.
- COSHH/IOSH qualifications.
- Qualified transport manager (CPC qualification).
- Current PCV Licence.

Why should you apply?

- Competitive salary, dependant on experience.
- 28 days holiday (including bank holidays), pension scheme and free local bus travel.
- A chance to further your career with a locally owned independent company.
